BROWN'S HOTEL,
(Opposite Depot)
MACON GA

THIS long and well known Hotel, with its unequalled system, still presents itself to the traveling public.

The House was opened on the 1st of January, 1856, and took at once a prominent position among the "first class" Hotels of the country. It has never been closed since, but it has been steadily increasing in prosperity, till it acknowledges no successful rival in the business in the State.

Recent improvements and refurnishing of the House, which is still in the hands of the Proprietors, have left nothing to be desired by those who love their ease and enjoy the comforts and luxuries of life. The Hotel is admirably situated for the convenience of the travelling public, being situated opposite the Passenger Depot, and but a few steps from the same. It has a retinue of well trained servants in every department, and the Proprietors will spare no pains or expense to sustain the established reputation of the Hotel. Special attention paid to the wants of lady guests who may sojourn at the House, and none shall go away dissatisfied, if an earnest endeavor to please will secure a liberal share of the public patronage. fe16-dtf

On Cotton, to be held Thirty Days, advance fifty (50) per cent. of market value, charging the regular commission for advancing, 2½ per cent., and interest on the advance at the rate of seven (7) per cent. per annum

On Cotton, to be held Sixty Days, fifty (50) per cent of its market value, charging commission for advancing, 2½ per cent., and interest on the advance at the rate of one (1) per cent per month.

In all cases the advance will be based upon the market value of the Cotton on the day it reaches us. MERCER & ANDERSON.

M., to 6 o'clock, P. M. He will give diligent, careful, and prompt attention to all business confided to his care.

He will make a specialty of the following grades of business, to-wit: The collection of debts, settlement of all money demands, and of all demands growing out of contracts between man and man, all matters appertaining to, or growing out of, the Homestead Law.

Parties desiring to avail themselves of the benefits intended to be conferred by the Homestead Law, are respectfully invited to come to my office for any information they may desire concerning the said law. Also, will attend specially to all matters in Bankruptcy; and he begs leave to say to the unfortunate debtor, that the time wherein you will be allowed the full benefit of the Bankrupt Law, will expire on the first day of January, 1869; after that time you must pay fifty per centum of your indebtedness, or else you cannot have the benefit of the law, except by the consent of a majority, in number and value, of your creditors, which consent you will not be likely to obtain.—If you are in debt $300, or upwards, and feel that you cannot pay out, without subjecting yourself and family to great hardships and inconvenience, come to my office, and I will assist you to be relieved from all your distresses and embarrassments, by filing a petition for you for that purpose.

Be sure to make application before the 31st day of December, or else you will be too late! too late!

The citizens are specially invited to come to my office to consult me on any business they may desire to have attended to. They will always find me in my office, in a good humor, always glad to see you, and ready to give you a hearty, old fashioned welcome, and will always be ready to attend to your business for you.

EVENING EDITION.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA, DECEMBER 5.

PERSONAL.—Col. Carey W. Styles left the city last evening for Albany, Ga., whence he will return in about a week.

COWHIDING AFFAIR.—From the Augusta Republican of Friday morning, we learn that E. H. Pughe, of that paper was "rawhided" in that city by Gen. A. R. Wright, editor in chief of the Chronicle and Sentinel, on the preceding day.

THE TRIAL OF MR. DAVIS.—Our morning Richmond telegrams state that the Judges of the United States Court were divided in opinion on the motion to quash the proceedings against Mr. Davis—Judge Chase favoring and Judge Underwood opposing the motion. The Supreme Court meets in Washington on Monday, when, we presume, the case will come before that body.

JUDGE POPE IN TROUP.—It affords us much pleasure to transfer to our columns and to indorse the following deserved compliment to Judge Pope, from the LaGrange Reporter.

The office filled by Judge Pope is not and ought not to be viewed in the light of a political one, and as long as he continues to discharge his duties faithfully and impartially as a jurist, he is entitled to the support of all good citizens, regardless of party predilections.

We are pleased to see that in other communities Judge Pope is giving that satisfaction which has been universally accorded him here:

To every lover of law and good order it is subject of congratulation that the administration of justice in Coweta Circuit has fallen into the hands of Hon, John D. Pope, assisted by Solicitor General W. A. Adams, Esq.

It requires but a visit to the court room and brief observation to satisfy any thinking man that the court is under most excellent discipline, and that order, which is the first requisite to success in all undertakings, exists there, preserved with the utmost quiet and regularity. The manner of the Judge on the bench is that of a polished gentleman, easy, graceful, kind, but firm.—His decisions are given, on most questions, without hesitating; but whenever, by skillful argument of counsel, or the fact that the question itself is obscure, it is rendered necessary, he is evidently not ashamed to call for information and to carefully delve for the justice of the case.—When his mind is made up, without rudeness, but with precision, clearness and force he makes his decision and thenceforth adheres to it. Lord Abingee said of himself that it took him a long judicial career to learn how not to give his opinion, and that no man deserved to occupy the bench who did not know how to weigh both sides fully before pronouncing his views. That the judge should be careful to distinguish for himself, between his impressions and his deliberate judgment. With the former no one had anything to do. In the latter the country is interested, and the judge has no right to substitute impressions for judgments. These great lessons, Judge Pope, though a young man, has evidently learned. Hence, on all sides, he is winning golden opinions as a magistrate and is securing to himself the admiration of the good men of the country, who desire the restoration of tranquility to society.

The administration of Judge Pope in Troupe has been, so far, most excellent. He has given an air of establishment to our Court again. He has despatched the business of the county and we give him praise for it, because he deserves it.—La Grange Reporter.

State of the Hog Trade at Various Points.

[From the Louisville Courier-Journal, 3d]

The hog market opened to-day buoyant and active, with receipts aggregating for two days 7,320 head, prices ranging from $7 75 to $8 gross, with sales reported of 150 head at $7 75, 200 head at $7 85, and an extra choice, heavy lot at $8 gross; sale of 200 head at 7¼c. net. In Cincinnati to-day prices ranged from 7⅛ to 7⅝c. gross; receipts 6,000 head. In Chicago prices were $7 50 to $7 62 for extra, and $7 to $7 37½ for good to choice; receipts 23,112 head. New York prices were 8 to 8¾c.; receipts 5,000 head. By the above quotations it will be seen that Louisville is the best market in the West for farmers and feeders to send their hogs.

PORK PACKING AND PROVISIONS AT CHICAGO. From H. Millward & Co.'s Circular, of Saturday.]

There has been but little change to note in our provision market during the past week, but it has been marked by general inactivity. A considerable decline on Tuesday in the price of hogs was not followed by the anticipated anxiety on the part of packers to commence packing. The working packers have only received two or three accessions to their ranks during the week, and a few of the houses are running to anything like their capacity. Every one but the farmers and drovers seem to regard the present prices as highly dangerous, and they cannot induce the operators to peer into futurity with their eyes, or to listen to their predictions with any other feeling than that of distrust. Packers seem all anxious to get off their products without delay, and indeed, for some time past they have been working for glory, with a decided leaning toward the debtor side of their profit and loss account, even though they have had the advantage of an active demand from the lumber regions, and also of several early contracts for stuff made at very high prices. There can be no security in the maintenance of present high prices for hogs, and before packers can stand on anything like firm ground, a very considerable decline must be established.

The packers at other points seem to be alive to this fact, and are insisting on and generally obtaining daily concessions; but our packers seem blinded by the little immediate demand, and fall willing victims to the rapacity of the farmers and drovers. Perhaps this state of affairs is much aided by our limited receipts, which have been much smaller than to the corresponding period last year. The hogs received have been of a fair quality as a rule, better than last year's, but, really, extra hogs have been very scarce. The receipts for the week sum up as follows, viz: Live, 73,058; dressed, 419; total, 73,477; and the shipments, live, 37,491; dressed, none; total 37,401; leaving 36,076 head for packers, city use, and a number left over in the pens. For the corresponding period of last year the receipts were; Live, 110,008; dressed, 1,232; total, 111,240; and the shipments, live, 22,427; dressed, 285; total, 22,712; leaving for packers, city use, &c., 88,528 head. The packing to the present time approximates to 63,315 head (of which the principal portion has gone into consumption.) against 180,000 head to the corresponding period last year. The shippers have been liberal purchasers, though yesterday the packers went in freely in order to secure a few days slaughtering ahead. The market declined to $6 50a$7 50 gross, but this induced liberal competition between the shippers and packers, and yesterday the pens were cleared at a slight advance. To-day the market closes firm and quiet at $6 50a$7 50 for light to extra weights. The few dressed hogs being received are taken by the city butchers at full rates.

[From the Cincinnati Price Current, Dec. 2.

Hogs were dull in the fore part of the week, but the receipts falling off toward the close, the demand became quite active. Nearly all the houses are engaged, and the supply of hogs being inadequate to give all even a little to do, it has created a good deal of competition, and been the means of putting up prices, because the demand for the product has been light. This forenoon as high as $8 was paid for extra hogs, gross, and $9 62½ net, but at the close $7 75 gross, and $9 50 net were extreme rates, and packers rather backward. Drovers are speaking of a short crop, and all that, and the light receipts and backwardness of the season, lead some to think there is something in what they say; that is, they think it may possibly be true, though probably not true. To us it seems quite clear that there will be an increase in the crop as compared with last year, but it will require a considerable increase, notwithstanding this, to make the supply of pork equal to that of last season, because of the absence of old stock this year. At moderate rates England will take more this season than last, and the same may be said of the Southern States.

TERRE HAUTE.—The Express of Saturday says:

Prices yesterday were $6 to $6 50, gross; $7 to $8 dressed.

Pork packing at Clinton, Armiesburg and Montezuma will begin next week.

EATON, O.—The Register of Thursday says:

Hog-killing commenced to-day at the slaughter grounds of C. Vanausdal, & Co. Prices have ranged thus far from $7 75 to $8 65, gross, according to quality. Yesterday the highest paid was $8 50 per hundred. The business this year will be carried on by Messrs. Walters, Kelly, Deem and Gould. The season opens admirably and will be kept active till the crop is packed, if the weather should remain favorable.

The Indianapolis Sentinel of to-day says:

The day opened with considerable activity in the hog market, and until the close not one jot of the animation was lost. The offerings were very free and the receipts quite liberal; large droves of hogs could have been seen driven along the streets from every direction, heading in the direction of the packing establishments on the western borders of the city. The same gap is still open between buyers and sellers, the former contending for lower rates, while the latter are persistent in their demands for higher; still, sales are generally effected. The demand is quite active.

Railroad Tariffs between Louisville and the Southern Country.

A BOGUS CIRCULAR—EXPOSE OF A SHREWD AND UNSCRUPULOUS TRICK—IMPORTANT TO SHIPPERS.

To the Editor of the Courier-Journal: Some important facts touching the material interests of the trade of Louisville have come to our knowledge to-day, and we feel it our duty to make them known through your columns to the trading public generally—especially to the merchants of the South. For a very long time there have been intimations and indirect charges made that freights were being put down at various points throughout the South from Cincinnati cheaper than from Louisville. As far as we are informed these charges never assumed any definite shape until now. By last evening's mail we received from a correspondent at Selma, Alabama, the following in the shape of a hand-bill in large capitals. It bears no date, you will observe, yet we know it to have been issued on Friday last. The remarkable document reads thus:

IMPORTANT TO THE MERCHANTS OF SELMA.

The Merchants of Selma will please bear in mind that through rates from Cincinnati and St. Louis are

MUCH LOWER THAN FROM LOUISVILLE.

One word to the wise is sufficient. For through bills lading and guaranteed rates, apply to D. G. FOWLER, No. 4 Public Landing, Cincinnati, and W. N. R. BEALL, 18 South Commercial street, and on Memphis and St. Louis Packet Company's wharf-boat, St. Louis, Mo.

Mark goods via Rome.

EDGAR VLIET, General Freight Agent, S., R. and D. R. R.

Having an earnest desire to fix upon the L. and N. R. R. the facts as above indicated, if true, we proceeded at once, in the following manner, to test its truthfulness or falsity: Seeing that Mr. D. G. Fowler was the agent who would issue through bills and "guarantee lower rates of freight from Cincinnati than Louisville," we dated a telegram "Louisville Hotel," and affixed the signature of one of our employers, asking for "the very lowest rate on stoves per car load and less quantities to Selma, Ala.," adding that "unless rate was low should have to buy here." To this we got a very prompt and full reply, giving us rates as desired. At the same time of sending the telegram we addressed a note to Mr. Van Alstine, Freight Agent of the L. and N. R. R., asking the same questions. The two answers now lie before us, and the rate given by the L. and N. R. R. is 29 per cent. less than that given by the largely-advertised Cincinnati freight agent. To those to whom we may be unknown, it may not be amiss to state that the writer was the only human being who knew anything of the test being made.

We at once visited Mr. Fink, the Superintendent of the Louisville and Nashville road, and laid all the facts before him. He expressed gratification that the test had been made, and especial pleasure that it had been so impartially done. Upon leaving he made to us this charge: Say to your customers and merchants generally, South, that "we will at all times give through bills to all points with which we connect, at less rates than from Cincinnati and St. Louis. We feel now that this whole matter is in tangible shape, and secures the trade of Louisville against any discriminations whatever. The hand-bill strikes us as an undignified electioneering business dodge, gotten up in the interest of Cincinnati, who, with her accustomed shrewdness, has induced a Southern railroad to advertise her and attempt to stab us. We believe it will miscarry, and that the intended blow will strike their own heads. The day has passed when Louisville will sit quietly by and allow her rivals to induce away her trade by such reckless advertising. The papers above referred to and quoted are all in our possession, and subject to the inspection of the incredulous.

Very respectfully,
J. S. LITHGOW & CO.

SENATOR MORTON'S FINANCIAL VIEWS. Senator Morton is preparing to advocate his financial views with persistency and force next winter. He had an interview with Secretary McCulloch yesterday, and discussed at much length points of difference between them. Morton argued that the Government was not bound to pay off five-twenties in coin, and should now begin to redeem the issue of 1862, with greenbacks. Mr. McCulloch replied that the Treasurer could not have sold these bonds if it had been the understanding that the principal could be paid in anything but coin. Senator Morton intends to introduce a bill embodying his ideas early in the season.—New York Times Washington Telegram, 17th.

CLOVER AS MANURE.—In an article published in the report of the Agricultural Department, a correspondent says, the cheapest, most easily attainable and best of all manures for a corn crop, is a dense mass of red clover, either in its green or ripened and dried state, plowed down three or four inches only; just deep enough to prevent wastage and yet near enough to the surface of the ground to be acted on by the sun's heat and the air. In its decay, clover thus affords certain, active and constant nourishment to the young and expanding roots of the corn. Both corn and wheat grown over a clover lay are very generally free from disease and insects, and better in yield and quality than crops grown on or with animal manure. But to secure this, we must manure the clover while yet young, with liberal supplies of plaster, lime, or fine well rotten manure spread broad cast over the growing plants.

☞ The fruit and vegetable canning business is said to rank third in point of importance in the business of Baltimore. We have heard it said that the peach canning establishment in Atlanta, last summer, made $40,000.—Macon Telegraph.

STAR AGRICULTURAL WORKS.

The Albany Cotton Gin Manuf'g Co.

Manufacturers of the Celebrated "Star" Cotton Gins and Condensers, "Star" Threshing Machines, "Star" Lever and Endless Chain Horse Powers, and other Agricultural Machinery.

Our "STAR" Cotton Gin and Condenser have taken first premiums in every instance where entered at Southern Fairs, competing with the best Gins of the country made by other parties.

At the two Great Fairs of the Mechanics' and Agricultural Association, held at New Orleans, successively in November, 1866, and January, 1868, the "Star" Gin and Condenser took first at both Fairs, and all the premiums offered on Gins and Condensers, against a competition embracing all other Gins of any prominence in the country. Also at the last two State Fairs held at St. Louis, Mo., our Gin and Condenser took the First Premium against a powerful competition.

The Condenser attachment being new to most planters, we wish to say that it entirely obviates the necessity of a "lint room," as with it a Gin may be used in the open air and the sheet or bat as it is discharged from the Condenser is ready for the press. It effectually cleans the cotton of sand and dirt, and makes the work of ginning free from the danger of inhaling the fine particles of lint which otherwise fill the air.

N. B. We also make the most approved HORSE POWERS (both Lever and Railway) to drive our "Star" Gins, and also manufacture the celebrated "Star" Threshing Machines. We furnish Gins with or without Condensers. For sale by our AGENTS and DEALERS generally. Our Complete Illustrated Descriptive Circular is sent, free of charge, on application by mail. Address THE ALBANY COTTON GIN MANUFACTURING CO., Albany, N. Y., P. O. Drawer 162.

AFFAIRS IN SPAIN.—The latest advices from Spain serve to confirm what we have held since the commencement of the revolution—that the people were unprepared for a Republican government and that the attempt to establish one for them would end in failure. One of the first acts of the Provisional Government is to declare that the people are inimical to a Republic, and really desire the re-establishment of some form of Monarchy. At Madrid and other points, the young men whose sentiments enthusiastically incline them that way have had formidable demonstrations in favor of the Republican cause, but the weight of influence is against them. The feeling between the two parties in many sections is so bitter that serious fears are entertained of collisions. One faction or party are favorable to a triune virate. The Liberal party seem not to be united upon any principle of concerted action; hence their plans and purposes have been less harmonious than the opposition. These factions, however, have sufficiently fused to issue a manifesto, in which they pronounce in favor of the leading ideas of the revolution. They claim that the first fruit of the revolution is the boon of complete liberty, securing perfect freedom of conscience in all religious matters, as well as in measures of public policey. The Liberals, as well as the Monarchists, appear to base their faith in the Cortes, which is soon to meet.

Whilst a Monarchy will, in our opinion, finally be established in preference to a Republic, we have no doubt that the more liberal spirit which triumphed in the revolution, will be infused into its institutions; and Spain, after all, may have entered upon those material reforms, which, during the past two hundred years have been wrought in England, without a change in the form of Government.

The Future of the Democratic Party.

The Democratic party, although defeated in the late election, showed itself to be too formidable in numbers and power to be depressed by the result. It the midst of defeat it is well to survey the situation and resolve upon a course that will redound to its success hereafter. With no responsibility for the administration of the Government in either of its branches, by pursuing a wise course it will be in a position to take advantage of every error committed by the Republican party. We agree with the World that, for the present, little can be done except by the Democractic press. A great deal depends upon the forecast and discretion of our Democratic editors. There are two systems on which party journals may be conducted—that of making converts from the opposition and that of repelling them. Either may be judicious, according to circumstances. When a party is in a majority and controls all public employments, it needs no recruits from the opposition; and that system of tactics is best which will most effectually maintain discipline and prevent desertions. When a party is thus strong it can afford to be intolerant, and it matters little how rudely it may shock the prejudices of opponents, so long as it preserves its ascendancy over its adherents. But this system does not answer for a party that is in a minority. Such a party can succeed only by inducing some of those who act with the opposition to change sides. It is then indispensable to make converts, which can only be done by such appeals as you get moderate men to listen to.

Those who believe that the Democracy has a great future will be unwilling to see any Democratic paper managed as if it were trying to appropriate the assets of a bankrupt organization. It is not always necessary to the success of a newspaper that its party should be in a majority, since the minority, in almost any locality, may furnish subscribers enough to enable a journal to live. If a paper merely aims to get these subscribers instead of to build up and extend the party, it will take no pains to make proselytes, any more than the administrator of a dead man's estate will aim to enlarge his business. It suffices for this selfish object that the party does not become extinct; it is not necessary that it should ever gain control of the government. But they who have faith in the party, and know that it can give effect to its principles only by accessions from the other side, will regret and deprecate any management which repels and drives away those whom it is needful to win over from the opposition. The Democratic party needs more than a bare majority to regain control of the State Legislatures and Congressional districts. They have been gerrymandered by the Republicans; and it is necessary to control them within the ensuing two years if we are to have a Democratic Congress at the beginning of the administration which succeeds Gen. Grant. The most important practical problem is, how to make converts enough to accomplish this object.

The Republicans bid fair to give us an excellent lift at the ensuing session of Congress. They will probably pass a bill restricting naturalization to the Federal courts, and propose an amendment to the Constitution for transferring the regulation of the suffrage to the Federal Government. Nothing could be more opportune for the Democratic party than the presentation of so important an issue close upon the heels of the Presidential election. It will agitate the whole country; it is an issue on which there will be no shade of difference in the Democratic ranks; and, best of all, it is an issue which is certain to bring us hosts of recruits. All that portion of our naturalized citizens who have acted with the Republican party on other questions, will unite with the Democracy on this, as the blow is aimed at the rights of citizens of foreign birth. A considerable part of those Republicans who, in late elections, have voted against negro suffrage in their own States, will also be persuaded to act with us on this question, if we do not needlessly shock their prejudices in other respects. In a change of party relations, it is the first step that costs; and we shall be fortunate in having an issue which will enable us to detach from the Republicans, before Grant's inauguration, a large number of those who voted for him.

The Democratic press needs to be very alert in watching the movements and seizing on the mistakes of the Republican party. Hundreds of thousands of honest men voted for Grant in the late election with great reluctance and many misgivings. This class of Republicans supply a hopeful recruiting ground for the Democratic party. Congress is pretty certain to furnish a new crop of financial absurdities this winter, and if we can get one or two new issues well started for next year's elections, we shall easily make great gains, and lay the foundation for signal success in recovering the State Legislatures and electing a new Congress. There is no reason to fear that staunch Democrats, who have stood the brunt of the last eight years' fighting, will desert the party now. On that side there is no danger; so that the great business of the Democratic press, for the next two years, is to make proselytes from the opposition.

AMENDING THE FEDERAL CONSTITUTION. As one of the various phases of Republican sentiment pointing in the direction of additional amendments to the Federal Constitution, we append the following as proposed by the New York Tribune:

> With profound reverence for the Constitution as our fathers framed it, and especially for that clause thereof which provides for its own amendment, as circumstances may render expedient, we propose the following amendment for the consideration of the people, and the approaching session of Congress, and of our State Legislatures:
>
> AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION.
>
> ARTICLE XV. The right of suffrage in the several States shall be regulated by the Legislatures thereof, subject to the following provisos:
>
> 1. That no State shall exclude from the class of electors of State and National officers any male citizen of the United States, of the age of 21 years, who has resided one year in the State, who is of sound mind, good moral character, and has not been convicted of a felonious crime.
>
> 2. Any person who has resided one year in the United States, and makes public oath before a competent magistrate that he intends permanently to reside here, and to render allegiance to the United States at all times, shall be deemed and held a citizen of the United States, and shall be entitled to vote as such at any time after he shall have been six months a citizen, but not sooner.
> 3. Each State shall be authorized to pass such registration or other laws as may be deemed necessary to protect the rights of legal voters, and punish illegal voting.

CUBA.—According to the latest intelligence from Cuba, it would seem that the inhabitants of that coveted little island will be satisfied with no measure short of independence. Having established a provisional republican government, the Cubans will listen to no terms of the Captain General proposing a surrender of their arms, and submission again to the Spanish authority. They scornfully reject all propositions, however liberal the reforms they embrace, short of entire independence. The revolutionary Junta conclude an address to the people as follows:

> We are fully informed of everything going on, and particularly well informed as to the plans of the revolutionary leaders, with whom we are in communication, beg to assert positively that, far from being disposed to lay down our arms, we are about to strike a blow that will echo on the continent. We will lay down our arms when Spain shall have recognized our independence, and not before, notwithstanding Spanish assertions and rumors to the contrary.

General Meade's Report.

From Gen. Meade's lengthy report to the War Department, as Commander of the Third Military District and subsequently of the Department of the South, we have only space to publish that portion which will be most interesting to our readers—the part taken by him in the reconstruction of Georgia:

> The Convention in Georgia, after being in session several months, in March adopted a Constitution which, together with a State ticket, was submitted to the people in April, and ratified by a very handsome majority of the registered vote, all parties taking part in the election. This Constitution, with some modifications, was adopted by Congress and the Legislature which convened in July, making these modifications and otherwise complying with the requirements of the reconstruction law; the State, together with Alabama and Florida, were by act of Congress formally admitted to representation. There is one point in regard to the admission of the State of Georgia to which I feel called upon to make special allusion. When the Legislature was convened by the Governor and Governor elect, the question arose whether, as military commander, I was called to inquire into the eligibility of the members, either under the United States laws or the Constitution of Georgia. The Convention of Georgia has, in its ordinance calling an election directed that all returns should be sent to the Military Commander of the District, who was requested to issue the necessary certificates of election. In carrying out this request of the Convention I deemed my duty simply required that I should give the member having the greatest number of votes the ordinary certificate of election, and that it would be for each House to decide on the eligibility of those members whose seats were on any grounds contested; while I admitted as District Commander executing the law, I was to see that no one ineligible to office under the 14th Article of the Constitutional Amendment should be allowed to take office. I did not see that in the case of a parliamentary body that I was called on to decide in the qualifications of the members. In this view I was sustained by a telegram sent to me for my information to the War Department, which had been sent to the Governor of Louisiana and the Military Commander of the Fifth District, and which I quote.
>
> WASHINGTON, June 30, 1868.—To Gov. Warmoth, New Orleans: We think that persons disqualified under the Fourteenth Article of the Amendment to the Constitution of the United States are not eligible to your Legislature. This is to be determined by the respective Houses, and no oath can be imposed except the oath prescribed by the State Constitution.
>
> (Signed) JAMES WILSON,
> Chairman of the Judiciary Committee.
> GEORGE F. BOUTWELL,
> J. F. FARNSWORTH,
> H. F. PAYNE,
> Reconstruction Committee.
> It will be seen by the above telegram that the distinguished gentlemen whose names were attached were of the opinion that no one ineligible to office under the 14th Article could take a seat in the Legislature; second, that the respective houses were to judge of the question; third, that no oath touching eligibility could or should be prescribed in advance of the meeting of the Legislature. These views, being in accordance with my own, I acted on them and was present at the organization of the two houses of the Georgia Legislature, to the members declared in my order as having the highest number of votes there being administered only the oath prescribed by the State Constitution. After these houses were organized, the Provisional Governor informing me officially of their organization, but that as far as he could learn no steps had been taken to test the question of eligibility of members under the 14th Article; I replied to the Governor that, until this State was admitted to representation, that the Legislature and all the members were only provisional and subject to the paramount authority of the District Commander, and that in the exercise of this power I should consider all acts of the Legislature null and void, until satisfactory evidence was presented to me that each House had purged itself of ineligible members, under the Fourteenth Article, provided there were any such in either House, and I desired the Provisional Governor to communicate these views to each house. On the receipt of this letter each House at once ordered an investigation, and inquired into the qualifications of each member, and duly reported, this fact through the Provisional Governor, stating at the same time that neither House had found any member ineligible. The Provisional Governor on transmitting these communications, expressed the opinion, founded on evidence presented to him, that several members in both Houses were ineligible, and called on me to exercise my power and require said members to vacate their seats. On reflecting upon this subject, I could not see how I was to take the individual judgment of the Provisional Governor in the face of a solemn act of a parliamentary body, especially as, from the testimony presented, I did not in several cases agree with the judgment of the Provisional Governor. The question was simply whether, in the construction of a law and in considering the facts of individual cases, I should make myself the judge, or take the opinion of the Provisional Governor in the face of the official information that a parliamentary body had gravely and formerly, through a Committee, examined, reported, and acted on these cases. My judgment was decidedly that I had fulfilled my duty in compelling the houses to take the action they had, and that having thus acted I had neither authority, nor was it politic or expedient, to overrule their action and set up my individual judgment in opposition. By an inspection of the telegrams sent July 18, and the reply of the General-in-Chief, July 23, it will be seen that my views and action were approved. I allude thus in extenso to this subject because his Excellency, the Governor of Georgia, in a public speech recently delivered at Albion, N. Y., is pleased to attribute the failure of Georgia to be properly reconstructed to my action in failing to purge the Legislature of his political opponents, he having advised me, when he urged such action that his friends had been relieved of their disability by Congress. The States being admitted to representation, the civil power vested in the District Commander by the reconstruction acts ceased, and civil authority resumed its sway, the inauguration of civil governments was to me, personally, a source of great relief, charged, as I had been, with almost unlimited powers, notwithstanding the utmost effort on my part to abstain from all interference, except in cases where, in my judgment, there was no alternative. I found myself the subject of virulent abuse, my motives impugned, and every imaginable mode of attack resorted to that malice and partisan malignity could devise. I determined, from the first, to ignore all partisan considerations, and to faithfully execute the laws without reference to personal or political considerations. I encountered, as was to be expected, the animosity of both sides, without having the benefit of the sympathy of either. I can, however, with just pride refer to my administration as being free from any design to interfere with the rights and liberties of any individual, much less any portion of the people.

FOREIGN COTTON COMPETITION.—In regard to the foreign cotton competition the New York Commercial Bulletin says:

> The efforts of the Government and capitalists of England to extend the area of cotton cultivation in other countries besides the United States show no abatement of energy and enterprise. In every part of the globe where cotton can be raised, English capital and brains stimulate its culture, and supply as far as can be all the deficiencies arising from the peculiar situation of the soil and the cultivators. To emancipate themselves from dependence upon American cotton is an object to which English manufacturers attach a high degree of importance. Upon the success of these efforts they regard the question of the monopoly of the cotton supply as dependent, and to prevent the restoration of the former supremacy of the United States in the production of the great staple, they spare no expense or trouble. The immense political influence of the Government promotes the efforts of private individuals, and English officials and consular agents in every part of the world to carry on the designs of the Manchester Cotton Supply Association.
>
> The latest information relative to the culture of cotton in other countries besides the United States during the year 1868, are reassuring. A company has been formed in Malburne for the cultivation of cotton and sugar in the Feejee Islands, the soil and climate of which are said to be favorable for the growth of these products. In the cotton province of San Paulo, Brazil, the product has increased from 7,027 arobas in 1864-5 to 390,000 arobas in 1867-8. For the year 1868-9 a yield of no less than 900,000 arobas is anticipated. The British consular agents in the United States of Columbia report that notwithstanding the admirable capabilities of soil and climate, no cotton is grown in the interior, owing to the unsettled political condition of the country. But from the consular district of Madalena a small supply will be obtained. The cotton tree is indigenous and perennial in this region, and offers almost boundless returns. When the crop is picked the tree is cut down and sprouts up again next season. The tree bears cotton for twenty years. With a settled form of government, offering security to labor and capital, it is estimated that immense returns could be procured from this region.
> From India the exports of cotton for 1867-8 show a decrease of 56,000 bales, as compared with the season last year. This falling off is attributed partly to the early setting in of the rainy season in the Central Provinces, and partly to large supplies sent to the Northwestern Provinces and to Bengal, for native consumption. The area cultivated is larger, however, than last year, and it is anticipated that later accounts may show an undiminished supply for exportation later in the season. Lord Mayo, the new Governor-General of India, in response to a committee of the Cotton Supply Association, promised to promote and extend the cultivation of cotton in India, and facilitate its speedy conveyance to Great Britain.

HOG FATTENING.—Let no time be lost in fattening pen hogs. Let the best practicable economy be used in feeding. If grinding of the corn can be effected, great saving will be made in feed, and if it can be boiled or steamed there will be still greater economy. But if neither be practicable, at least have the corn thrown on a close plank floor, when everything will be eaten clean, and no waste from tramping or dirt. Fattening hogs should be made in all respects comfortable; should have a dry but not too warm bed to sleep on, sufficient against weather, with shed opening to the South and be well supplied always with clean water.

DAN CASTELLO
WITH HIS HERD OF
WAR CAMELS
Are Coming! Are Coming!
The Greatest and Most
NOVEL FEATURE of the AGE!
Will Exhibit at Atlanta,
MONDAY, DECEMBER 14th,
Admission 75 Cents; Children under 10 years of age 50 Cents.

Mr. Dan Castello takes pleasure in announcing to the citizens of the South that, to give increased attraction to his already vast combination of talent and attractions, he has imported a HERD OF ABYSSINIAN WAR CAMELS, or, War Ships of the Desert, at a cost of over forty thousand dollars ($40,000), and which will be attached to the CHARIOT OF THEODORE. This Chariot has been pronounced the most beautiful piece of workmanship, and was built from designs and suggestions made by an officer of the British army, who served during the Abyssian and Indian wars, and bears upon its centre a colossal statute of the GOLDEN HORSE OF TARTARY, and elegantly carved, and surrounded by elegant Banners, Flags and Streamers, Camel, Lion and animal heads.

Each performances will commence with a grand and entirely new Arabian Nights Carnival, entitled THE REVOLT OF THE HAREM. In which will be introduced Camels, Arabs, Ladies, Gentlemen, Children to the number of One Hundred, with gorgeous costumes, rich paraphernalia and costly trappings and properties.

DAN CASTELLO'S
Great Show
AND
Abyssinian Caravan!

Fourth Annual Tour of the Great Equestrian Establishment which is well known throughout the country as the

LEADING CIRCUS IN AMERICA

And which during the present season, with its new and magnificent features never before presented in this country, will be enabled to offer entertainments of marked originality and exciting interest, far surpassing anything hitherto witnessed on this side of the Atlantic. The public appreciation of the performance given by Dan Castello's GREAT SHOW in the South, and also during its summer tours, has stimulated the management to renewed exertions, and it is confidently asserted, beyond the power of contradiction, that the performance of this Troupe, during the present season, will be found far superior to any ever given on this Continent. This company is, in every respect, THE BEST IN THE WORLD, there being no Equestrian establishment on the Eastern Hemisphere whose performances are so novel, recherche, refined and artistic, and which have evoked such admiration and astonishment in all the specialties of the arena.

The following eminent artists are Dan Castello's new Star Troupe. Two champion bare-back riders in the ring at the same time, CHAS. FISH and SIG. SEBASTIAN.

This is an unprecedented combination, affording the public an opportunity to witness two Star Bare Back Riders in the arena at the same time, and whose acts are entirely different and dissimilar, and who will each be stimulated to greater acts of daring to out-herald each other in acts of horsemanship.

M'lle De Berg,

The Phenomena Equestrienne, from France, whose wonderful and graceful equitations have won for her the title of the Champion Lady Rider, and who will appear in ready performance in her daring acts of horsemanship.

YOUNG ROMEO The Boy Wonder, who is one of the most graceful and Juvenile riders of the age, and whose daring and intrepid acts of horsema ship, warrant the management in challenging the world that his equal in the profession is not of the present day, to the amount of $5,000.

JAMES COOKE, the greatest Rider and Vaulter in this country.

SIG. MONTEVERDI and SIG. FERANTIO, two wonderful Contortionists.

THE LEOTARD BROTHERS who, in the contest of the Acrobatic Gymnasts of all nations, in Paris, were awarded the Gold Medal as Champion Gymnasts of the world.

LA PETITE JOSEPHINE, the Cupid Rider.

MASTER GEORGE, the Daring and Dashing Hurdle Rider.

MR. DAN CASTELLO, the popular Jester of the age, who has met with unbounded success East, West, North and South, who will introduce his troupe of Educated Horses, Ponies and Mules, consisting of the far-famed Russian Horse

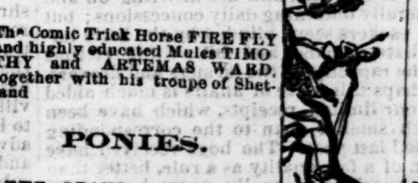
CZAR!

The Comic Trick Horse FIRE FLY and highly educated Mules TIMOTHY and ARTEMAS WARD, together with his troupe of Shetland

PONIES.

THE GRAND STREET PAGEANT will leave the Mammoth Pavilion which covers over one acre of ground and which will comfortably accommodate 5,000 persons, at 11 A. M. each day.

Performances will commence. Afternoon at 2 o'clock; Evening at 7½ o'clock.



NOTICE.—In order to accommodate Heads of Families, Ladies and Children, and those that wish to avoid the crowd at the Ticket Wagon, can procure them at the National, United States and American Hotels, and Phillips & Crew's Book Store.

CHAMBERLAIN & BOYNTON have one of the largest dry goods establishments in the city. The store is always crowded, because they always keep a large and carefully selected stock, which they sell cheap. They have also a great variety of carpets, which they are offering at low figures. Our young friends, Johnson and Thomas, two of the politest clerks in the city, are in this establishment.

Everybody should go to W. F. Peck & Co.'s, because they keep the choicest goods, and will sell them cheap.

IF you want to see a large stock of stoves and tin-ware, go to Echols, Langford & McCrath's where they sell everything cheap.

CONCERT FRIDAY EVENING.—'Tis a fact—imagination still feels the mellifluous strains vibrating along the chords of our sympathetic soul. What a trial it was, to spend an evening as we did! To lay aside the "carking cares" of life, for the hour, and revel in the witching of delicious sound.

The First Presbyterian Concert, of the 4th inst., was no ordinary entertainment. We dub it most emphatically THE CONCERT. The sky was clouded, but the gay, the beautiful of Atlanta—the young, the man of years, were present in profusion. To say that all were delighted would but tamely express the pleasure felt.

To discriminate as to the merits of the performers would seem invidious—all were splendid. Those solos and duetts by the fair "sweet singers" and those lads and lasses—well! Paradise might have just such to populate it. "Anthems" by the full choir were sublime. Too much praise cannot be given the Quartette Club of Atlanta. Their music was very fine, but the "baritone solo" deserves particular mention. As to Prof. Gardner, whose touch elicited such tones from the NEW ORGAN and by whom the instrument was built, we are at a loss which to most commend—his skill as a manufacturer or his genius as a musician.

To Mr. Charles Harmsen, long known in this community as one entirely competent to get up such treats, all praise is due.

It will be seen, from the correspondence in another column, that "The Concert" will be repeated on Tuesday evening next. To all lovers of true music we say, go.

ATLANTA, Dec. 5, 1868.

Pursuant to a call made by a large number of citizens of Atlanta and farmers of Fulton county, a meeting was held at the City Hall, to organize an Agricultural Society for Fulton county and to appoint delegates to the Convention to meet in Macon on the 9th inst.

On motion, Mayor Williams was called to the Chair, and Samuel A. Echols to act as Secretary.

The Chairman briefly stated the object of the meeting and called for remarks from other gentlemen present.

Col. J. J. Thrasher and Rev. Chas. W. Thomas, responded, making some appropriate remarks relative to the duties before the meeting.

As no permanent organization could be effected without rules for its regulation, a Committee was appointed to draft a Constitution and By-Laws for an Agricultural Society, to be presented at next meeting. Albert Hape, J. J. Thrasher, J. T. Meador, M. W. Johnson, and Samuel A. Echols compose the Committee.

On motion it was resolved that the Chairman appoint a delegation to represent Fulton county in the Convention in Macon, on the 9th inst.

The following named gentlemen composed the Committee as appointed: Richard Peters, G. W. Adair, J. M. Calhoun, Jared I. Whitaker, Joseph Thompson, J. J. Thrasher, and Samuel A. Echols.

On motion the meeting adjourned until Monday 14th inst.

J. E. WILLIAMS,
Chairman.
SAM'L. A. ECHOLS,
Secretary.

TIMELY SUGGESTION.—Our correspondent "K" makes some suggestions to the conductors of the press, as well as to their readers, which we trust will not be unheeded. For our part we shall endeavor to adopt them, and in a measure labor to make the Sunday edition of THE CONSTITUTION the medium of much reading matter appropriate to that day.

Editor of the Constitution: With all humble deference, will you allow me a suggestion, not a criticism. Can't you give us a good Sunday paper? I weary of "politics and news" all the week, and when I see the bright face of THE CONSTITUTION Sunday morning I long for one day's rest. You may call it piety or what not, yet we want some good Sunday reading. How many learned and good men are near you who would contribute to the result. Not that they could do it better than ourself, but it would relieve you; and they would gladly serve you, many and great as are their cares. I have some reason to know of editors and printers. Their work is never done; everlasting toil; poorly appreciated, it may be, yet by all odds the power in this or any land where it has half a chance.

Let me urge all to attendance on Sabbath School, not simply the child but the parent and member of the church, and all who love that which is good. Go, by all means, with your child. See and know what is going on in Sabbath School. Let the child see you are concerned in the matter, otherwise it may be for parent and child a poor affair. And of equal or greater importance, be found in the church yourself. Don't miss it. You may hear what you think a poor sermon, but if from a true man he will give you the gospel of life, and none will think more meanly of his effort than himself. I think you hear nothing but the way of life from Atlanta pulpits. These Sabbaths are our holy days, to be spent in private and public worship of God; the jewel of all the days, in which rest of heart and soul may be found from the carking care and worry of the week; a day not to be spent in sloth or dissipation, but the blessed rest and relaxation of doing and getting good; not a day of gloom, but of joy and thanksgiving, emblem of the speedy incoming and immortal Sabbath. The lower must lift us up to the upper—nay, rather let the upper draw and lift us from the lower—and this day be a preparation for an abundant entrance into the everlasting Sabbath. K.

PROF. C. HARMSEN—Dear Sir: Appreciating the highly creditable manner in which your Concert for the benefit of the First Presbyterian Church was rendered, and the purpose for which it was rendered, and feeling that very many of our people, not only music-lovers, but the people generally, concur with us, we take this mode of requesting its repetition one evening next week.

J. L. Harris, P. Romare, T. J. Langston, John C. Whitner, J. J. Toon, G. T. Anderson, J. S. Willson, W. B. Cox, W. R. Hill, J. M. Hill, Wm. H. Hulsey, R. C. Clarke, A. R. Watson, W. M. Lowry, Robt. J. Lowry, John H. James, W. P. Orme, A. Austill, J. A. Hayden, J. R. Barrick, J. R. Bostwick, T. P. Fleming E. Y. Clarke, John L. Ells.

Messrs. Harris and Others: Gentlemen—Being always ready and willing to work for the public good, and eager to contribute to the enjoyment of others as much as I possibly can, I would state in answer to your very flattering note, that I will repeat the Concert on Tuesday night next. Very respectfully,
CARL HARMSEN.

Fire in Galveston, Texas.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Gen. Schofield has returned.

Members of Congress are arriving rapidly.

The Dyer Court of Enquiry will adjourn from Saturday next to the 10th of January.

Revenue receipts to-day $352,000.

Wooley has withdrawn his suit in Baltimore against Butler for false imprisonment.

There is a strong pressure here to keep Georgia Senators out, but not to disturb the Congressmen, the theory being that Congressmen represent constituencies not affected by the action of the Legislature.

T. B. Florence, recently defeated for Congress in the second Pennsylvania District, has been appointed Assessor for the same District. Full abstracts of the annual report were published in this morning's Tribune.

MADISON, IA., Dec. 5.—Immediately after the collision of the mail boats America and United States, the petroleum on the United States fired, and in thirty seconds she was in flames from stem to stern. It is supposed eighty lives were lost, including forty women. The America lost no passengers. The America was going up and the U. S. downward. The accident occurred at half-past eleven o'clock last night. The boats departed from their respective landings at noon on Friday.

PROVIDENCE, Dec. 5.—Gen. Grant visited Burnside. He goves to Hartford to-night.

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 5.—The Supreme Court this morning adjourned to Saturday next without transacting any business of general interest.

RICHMOND, Dec 5.—It is understood to day that it is the intention of Gen. Stoneman to proceed at once to apply the 14th amendment in filling the offices of clerks of courts and commonwealth attorneys in the State. A list of persons who are eligible is being prepared by the civil authorities.

It is officially stated that the July interest on the State debt of two per cent. will be paid January first.

In the U. S. Circuit Court this morning the Chief Justice gave the certificate of a division of opinion on the motion to quash the Davis indictment. The case of Davis in this Court was then continued till the May term, in order that the motion to quash may be decided in the Supreme Court before the case is called again here. The Court directed a renewal of the bail bond of the prisoner to be made. Chase left on the noon train for Washington.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 5.—The first race to-day (the fourth) was a single dash of a mile for all ages—purse $250. Bettie Bay beat Jack Gamble and Gilroy in 1m. 57s. The second race—sweepstake for three year olds, two mile heats—there were nine entries—$25 p. or p., the Club giving $500. Sundown walked over the course. In the third race, two mile heats, purse $300, Nellegan's gray colt by Daniel Boon was distanced by Chemisette and Bonnet. First heat 4m. 10½s. The track was very heavy and sticky. In the third race, second round, Chemisette broke her left hind leg below the postern joint.

GALVESTON, Dec. 5.—A fire this morning destroyed the wholesale drug store of W. H. Dial and the Internal Revenue Office. The building and stock were insured for about one-half.

LONDON, Dec. 5.—The Times argues against yielding to the new demand of Seward in the Alabama claims; that the question of International Law be submitted to the Commission; and both the American and British Commission are committed naturally to opposit sides. The Times regrets Stanley's being robbed of the glory of settling these International questions, and rests satisfied his successors will pursue his policy.

It is reported that Bright peremptorially declined the Secretaryship of State for India, but urges the Earl of Kimberly as Foreign Secretary. A full list of the Ministers will be completed Monday.

A HOUSEHOLD NECESSITY!
Darby's Prophylactic Fluid!
The Country is Waking up to its Merits!
What About It!
It will purify the most offensive atmosphere.
It will cleanse and cure Erysipelas, all sorts of sores, ulcers, boils, cuts, wounds, etc.
It will prevent gangrene.
It will cure burns, scalds, and bruises.
It is a perfect pain-killer.
It will destroy and neutralize all animal and vegetable poisons.
It will, therefore, cure stings or bites of insects.
It will cleanse and purify the breath, and hence is an excellent tooth-wash and healthful cosmetic.
It will cure diarrhoea, even the worst chronic case.
It will instantly cure horses of the colic or persons of heartburn.
It will, owing to the bleaching properties of Chlorine, remove all ink spots, mildew, vegetable stains, &c.
It will cure Catarrh.
It will remove rancidity out of butter and lard.
It will, properly used, be more efficacious than any other agent in preventing the spread of contagious diseases, and has frequently done it.
It will, used in bathing, keep the skin healthy, soft and white.
We pledge whatever reputation we may have as honest truthful gentlemen for the performance of all here claimed, or the article and more too.
It is used everywhere by the medical profession as fast as it is introduced, and we respectfully refer to all prominent men of the profession, from very many of whom we have the highest testimonials of praise for the Fluid.
As a convenient article for constant family use it has no superior.
It has a beautiful color, and when the color is gone the virtues of the Fluid are lost. Hence be careful not to get the cork in the bottle of any animal or vegetable substance, and always keep the bottle stopped. After the Fluid has acted the residium is perfectly inert and harmless.
It is taken internally as well as applied externally.
It is cheap, selling only at 50 cents per bottle of half pint.
Everybody Uses it and Praises It! True Merit is the Foundation of its Success!!
Read Some of the Testimony!
Letter from Hon. Alex. A. Stephens, of Ga.]
CRAWFORDSVILLE, GA., 29th Sept. 1868.
Darby's Prophylactic Fluid is an article of little cost, but great value. Its domestic as well as medicinal uses are numerous, while its specialties are most wonderful. I have not been without it for ten years, and no head of a family who can afford to have it should be without it.
ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.
Letter from Hon A. J. Walker, Montgomery, Ala., Ex Chief Justice Supreme Court of Ala.]
I have for many years used Darby's Prophylatic Fluid, and have found it exceedingly valuable—I recommend it to the public confidence as highly useful for the various purposes to which it is applied.
A. J. WALKER.
Montgomery, Ala., Oct. 1868.
Letter from Rev. Jefferson Hamilton, D. D., Mobile, Ala., Minister M. E. Church, South.]
My family have used Darby's Prophylactic Fluid for several years for various purposes, and esteem it very highly. Indeed, I know of no article within the whole range of Chemical preparations so generally and highly recommended by acquaintances as this.
J. HAMILTON.
MOBILE, Ala., Sept, 23, 1868.
Letter from Prof. R. T. Brumby, Marietta, Ga.]
I was fifteen years Professor of Chemistry, &c., in the Univ. of Alabama, and eight years in the Univ. of S. C., and I am convinced that Prof. Darby's Prophylactic Fluid possesses all the merit he claims for it. It is very generally known and appreciated in all the Southern States, and is sold by nearly all Southern druggists.
R. T. BRUMBY.
MARIETTA, GA., Oct. 1868.
From Rev. John Matthews, Pastor M. E. South, at Montgomery, Ala.]
MONTGOMERY, ALA., Oct. 20, 1868.
Darbys' Prophylactic Fluid is the only medicine kept in my family. We use it for almost everything—burns, bruises, stings, earache, sour stomach, &c., &c. My children, when hurt or bruished, always call at once for Darby's Fluid. We cannot get along well without it.
JOHN MATHAWS.
From W. O Tuggle, Esq., Attorney at Law, La Grange, Ga.]
LAGRANGE, GA., Oct., 21, 1868.
I take pleasure in stating that I have found "Darby's Prophylactic Fluid to be an excellent remedy for cutaneous eruptions, chapped skin and bruises. It is a priceless jewel as a disinfectant, and my wife states, for the benefit of young mothers, that "Darby's Fluid" is a valuable adjunct to the nursery.
W. O. TUGGLE.
From J H. Heustis, M. D., Mobile, Ala., Prof. Mobile Medical College.]
MOBILE, ALA., Oct. 19, 1868.
I have used your Chlorinated Fluid in Hospital and private practice for ten years, and know of nothing better for sloughing, contused and lacerated wounds, foul and indolent ulcers, and as a disinfectant.
J. F. HEUSTIS, M. D.
These are but a few of the most recent testimonials received in behalf of the preparation.
It is as useful in winter as in summer, for its disinfecting quality is the least of its really valuable uses.
It is neatly put up in half pint bottles, and sells at 50 cents per bottle.
All Druggists keep it.

Waiting.

BY PEARL RIVERS.

Down the golden shores of Sunset
On the silver Twilight strand,
From my dark-eyed poet lover
I in dreamy waiting stand.

O'er the waters deep that part us,
In the fairy barque of Thought,
Winged with silken sails from Dreamland,
By the hand of Fancy wrought,

He is floating, floating softly,
Floating straight to love and me;
Hark! the mellow, mellow music
Of his voice upon the sea.

Reason guides the fairy shallop,
But his heart-throbs dip it low;
With a dreamy, dreamy motion,
Rock it gently to and fro.

He has passed the shoals of Pleasure,
Though the syrens singing there
Sought to bind him to their bosoms
With their golden, golden hair.

And he brings a precious freightage,
Sparkling gems of poesie,
Gathered from the Isles of Beauty,
And this wreath is all for me!

All for me, his chaste, his chosen,
Standing by the Sunset Land,
Like the spirit of a lily
On the silver Twilight strand.

THE GORILLA—His Phisique as Compared with that of Man—Interesting Facts.—A lecture recently delivered in New York by Dr. Lamercier, on the gorilla contained an elaborate and interesting comparison of the gorilla with man.

Though not quite so tall as the average man, the gorilla is far more powerful than Heenan, having, according to Du Chaillu, the strength of eight able-bodied men. Only two of these creatures have been dissected in Europe, one by Professor Duvernoy, and the other by Dr. Auzoux. No live gorilla has been brought to Europe or America. The differences between man and the gorilla are very striking. The latter cannot stand upright, owing to the structure of his spinal column; his arms are longer, and his legs are shorter than those of the human species; in walking he commonly uses the backs of his hands, placing them flat upon the ground; he has thirteen pairs of ribs, and the female fourteen, whereas man has but ten; he has several muscles which are not found in man; he has "bagpipes" under his arms, connecting with his windpipe and glottis, and by compressing these with his arms he can make a noise more terrible than the uproar of a thousand ragmen, which can be heard, according to the testimony of M. Du Chaillu, at a distatnce of three miles or more. His hand is greatly inferior to the human hand, and, besides, there exists a multitude of minor differences in other organs. But what places man far above the gorilla is the vast superiority of the human brain and head. The gorilla has a better developed head than the lion, and when young his cranium has a great resemblance to that of a child. But afterward, though there is an immense growth of the tone, there is no expansion of the cavity of the skull, and consequently none of the brain. The lecturer expressed himself at considerable length on this point, and in such a manner as to make it evident that he was no believer in the hypothesis of Darwin. All animals have been made to meet the wants of their material life, and are wonderfully contrived for those purposes. The gorilla has been made a savage inhabitant of the forest, and is adapted for rapidly ascending trees. His chest and muscles are marvellous, and if the animal had had the wisdom and cunning of man, the African race would long since have been swept from their native soil. In connection with the gorilla's chest, Dr. Lemercier said that the strength of any animal whatever is according to the development of the chest, and took occasion once more to impress upon his audience the benefit which resulted to children from strengthening their lungs by gymnastic exercises.

LORD AND LADY BULWER.—Lady Bulwer, who was once the torment of her husband's life, publishing novels every year or two—in which he was the villain, and his death described as the most desirable of events—is now, I believe, out of "harm's way." She is understood to be in a lunatic asylum. A Peeress by right, she has never enjoyed the honors of the station. Lady Bulwer was always a passionate woman; she was a hot-headed Irish girl of the middle classes, who could not brook the least contradiction or apparent neglect. Bulwer was fond of her, and dedicated one of his early novels to her in affectionate terms. When the quarrels began, the husband's mother made things worse, and, after disgraceful scenes had been enacted, a separation was agreed to. When Bulwer was a Cabinet Minister, he sought to get her confined in an asylum, but she obtained her release, posted to the country town at which he was to present himself for reelection and harangued the farmers from a wagon.

Their only surviving child, Mr. Robert Lytton, now rising fast in the diplomatic world, and known as "Owen Meredith," undertook to live with his mother and keep her from mischief; but her violence became at last real insanity. Some of her books, such as "Cheveley, or the Man of Honor," are clever enough, though the hatred of her husband which they reveal is sickening. She extended this feeling to his friends, and "Mr. Ben. Araby" (Disraeli,) and Mr. Dickens figure prominently in her works. When Mr. Dickens took the world into his cofidenee and narrated the fact of his separation from his wife, Lady Bulwer was in ecstacies. She claimed it as proving the justice of all she had said.

Sir Henry Bulwer, Lord Lytton's brother, still professes Radicalism; and hopes to sit in the new House of Commons as an advanced Liberal.—London Correspondence of Chicago Tribune.

TO MAKE SAUSAGE.—A good sausage grinder is almost as essential to a well ordered kitchen as a coffee mill. The proportion of fat meat to lean will depend somewhat on the taste of different people, but there should in all cases, be a sufficient amount of fat in them to supply what is needed in cooking. If the pork you design for sausage contains too little lean, you can supply the deficiency by adding beef, which is less expensive, and which forms with the pork a mixture which is preferred by many to pork alone.

The most difficult part of sausage making is the seasoning. Many housewives have no rule about it, but add some salt, and pepper, and sage; cook a sample; find it not seasoned highly enough, and try it over again; finally, from too little seasoning, the maker manages to get in too much, for having tasted for some time the substances used, their flavor is not so distinct as at first. An excellent proportion for the seasoning, is to add to one hundred pounds of chopped meat, two and a half pounds of fine salt, ten ounces of black pepper, and eight ounces of dried sage leaves. It is preferable to buy the whole pepper corns, and to grind them at home, as ground pepper is often adulterated, and always loses its strength after being ground. Sage also often deteriorates by exposure to the air and moisture; but if it is in good condition the above proportion will be most acceptable to the majority of tastes.

It is true that there are some persons who prefer other herbs besides sage, such as summer savory and thyme, and there are a few who relish spices of various kinds; but where sausages are to be made to suit the tastes of several persons, we must be careful not to add any substance that will offend the taste of any one. All the ingredients should be thoroughly mixed together, stuffed in skins or bags made of cotton cloth, or placed in shallow earthen dishes. Their flavor is better after they have been made some days than it is immediately after they are made.—Prairie Farmer.

THE CONSTITUTION,

DAILY AND WEEKLY,

ATLANTA, GEORGIA

BY W. A. HEMPHILL & CO.

DAILY, PER ANNUM	$10 00
" SIX MONTHS	5 00
" ONE MONTH	1 00

WEEKLY, PER ANNUM	$3 00
" SIX MONTHS	1 50
" THREE MONTHS	1 00

THE CONSTITUTION is intensely DEMOCRATIC and neither pains, enterprise, nor money will be spared, in the efforts of the Proprietors, to make it a leading organ, and one of the first papers in the South.

THE CONSTITUTION has scarcely laid aside its baptismal robes, and yet its circulation is equal to, if not greater, than any political paper in Georgia. This unparalleled success is mainly attributable to the industry and enterprise which have characterized its management.

As its name imports, it is battling for the Constitution and the liberties of the people; and the patronage it has received, assures the Proprietors that their labors are appreciated, and their policy endorsed.

As an advertising medium, THE CONSTITUTION is, perhaps, superior to any paper published in the State, its circulation being confined to no particular locality, but extending from one end of the State to the other, and from the Savannah to the Chattahoochee.

The Proprietors intend no relaxation of their energy, but will add new features of interest and more vigorous enterprise as patronage increases; and they hope in future, as in the past, to merit the good will and plaudits of their numerous readers.

The excellent remedies of O. S. Prophitt, M. D., need no recommendation. Their well known power in removing the diseases peculiar to our Southern Climate, having already established for them an enviable reputation in Georgia and the adjoining States. As the majority of persons living in the South are pre-disposed to disease of the Liver, it is granted by all intelligent physicians that most of the pains and aches of our people are due to organic or functional derangement of that important organ. Prophitt's Anti-Bilious Pills and Liver Medicine strike directly at the root of the evil. They cure the Liver which, in nine cases out of ten, is at the bottom of the Coughs, Dyspepsia, Colic, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Constipation, Menstrual Obstructions, etc., so common among our people. Earache Toothache, Acute Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and bodily pains of every kind, flee before PROPHITT'S PAIN KILL IT like chaff before the wind.

SAVANNAH REPUBLICAN,

Daily and Weekly,

By J. E. SNEED.

THE undersigned is pleased to announce to his friends and the public that he has again come in possession of this time-honored journal, and expects to devote his entire time to making it, as a newspaper, second to none in the South. The liberal patronage of the past and better years, while the REPUBLICAN was under his charge, encourages him to hope that by prompt and continued support the public will enable him to carry this purpose into effect.

To the MERCHANTS of the South, and especially of his own State, he looks with confidence for a general support, promising them, in return, the best news, commercial and political journal that his experience and capabilities can produce.

The Weekly Republican,

Designed more especially for the planting community, and others who have not the privilege of a daily mail, will be found to contain all the news of the week condensed into a small compass, and by the close of the year we expect to issue in a large and imperial sheet of eight pages, to contain more reading matter than any paper in the South.
